

Terms of Use

You are entering a contract to have a clinical assessment and completion of relevant paperwork which will be conducted with reasonable skill and care. In both real and legal terms this is not the standard of perfection.

If in the course of the clinical assessment or in response to any information provided or apparent the assessing doctor determines that on balance, it is more likely that there is a problem than not, he is professionally bound to record this. It is in your interests to address any health concerns which the clinician finds clinical or other evidence of. Therefore if, in raising a concern about your health and recording this, there is any further issue with your licence to undertake a role, no refund shall be due since the purpose of the assessment shall have been fulfilled. We are providing a clinical assessment and not in anyway in control for the decision of other parties on that information; we are therefore not liable for any subsequent losses which arise if your licence is delayed or refused. You must bring your driving licence or in date passport with you as proof of identity. If you have not got a photo card licence then please take some other form of id such as a passport. Failure to provide photographic identification will result in the medical being cancelled and another charge incurred for the rescheduled medical examination.

1. You must have full details of any medication that you are currently prescribed. Failure to provide information will result in the medical being cancelled and another charge incurred for the rescheduled medical examination.
2. You must have the address and contact details for your registered GP. If you are not registered with a GP, you must state this on your form by writing 'Not Registered'. Failure to provide this information will result in the medical being cancelled and another charge incurred for the rescheduled medical examination.
3. If you fail your eyesight test the doctor will inform you that your sight does not meet the necessary criteria for the medical examination. You may either:
 - a. Carry on with the rest of the examination and complete the form, or;
 - b. You can visit an optician who will provide recommendations on corrective measures so that you meet the criteria. Any subsequent medical examinations with us will be charged in full.
4. If you are requiring a medical for a taxi licence you are required to bring with you the medical form that is required from the local authority that is issuing your taxi licence. Failure to provide this medical form will result in the medical being cancelled and another charge incurred for the rescheduled medical examination.

5. If you are requiring a medical for a taxi licence you are required to check the licensing policy of the council to which you are applying and to bring with you the necessary medical records if these are mandated. . Failure to provide medical records where these are required will result in the medical being cancelled and another charge incurred for the rescheduled medical examination.
6. If you are requiring a medical for a taxi licence you are required to make sure that the local authority that is issuing your taxi licence will accept a form completed from a doctor who is not your registered GP. No refund will be given if the local authority does not accept our doctors completing the medical examination.
7. Refunds will only be given to medicals that are either cancelled with more than 5 working days (Monday – Friday) notice or postponed with more than 24hours notice. For any medicals cancelled or not attended a refund will not be given.
 - a. Credit for postponed appointments will only be valid for a maximum of 30 days after the date of postponed appointment.
 - b. Your appointment can only be cancelled or re-arranged once. Subsequent changes to your appointment will incur another booking fee.
8. If we are unable to provide a medical which has been booked our liability will be limited to only refunding sums paid for the medical examination. We will not be liable for any consequential loss, by making a booking you are unequivocally accept this.
9. It is the responsibility of the customer to ensure that the type of medical examination booked is appropriate to the needs of the applicant.
10. The eye test will be performed with a Snellen chart. This chart may be wall mounted or portable. You are receiving a screening eye test to meet the DVLA requirements; this is not equivalent to a formal assessment by an optician who is equipped with specialist examination equipment in a specialised examination environment. There may be times when Applicants do not comfortably pass the screening assessment with our clinician and are referred, in their best interests and in the best interests of road user safety, to have a formal and more advanced assessment with an optician. We are not liable for any further costs of eye tests incurred as a result of a screening assessment, nor are we liable for any consequential loss incurred by obtaining such further test.

11. Your blood pressure will naturally fluctuate; it may increase at times of stress which for some people can be around the time of their medical assessment. We use calibrated electronic blood pressure monitors; we transcribe the reading exactly on to your form. We are therefore not liable for such readings which exceed the DVLA standards of 180/100 mmHg. If your blood pressure exceeds either of these numbers you may be the subject of further investigation by the DVLA and this may delay your licence: we are not liable for any consequential loss arising from your blood pressure exceeding the DVLA parameters of 180/100 mmHg which delays your licence being granted. Your fee includes the taking one blood pressure reading. Any further readings are at the discretion of the clinician but are not mandated by the payment of the examination fee and we are not bound to offer serial blood pressure readings at your appointment.
12. The customer will not be entitled to a refund in cases where the medical could not be completed because of a perceived language difficulty. The Doctor will only complete the medical examination if they are satisfied that the customer has a sufficient understanding of all the questions asked of them. It is the customer's responsibility to provide a translator in these circumstances.
13. Whatever the reason your licence is delayed or refused, be it any act or omission on our part, such as failing to complete the form with one hundred percent accuracy, you unequivocally accept that our liability is limited to nothing more than the cost of the medical which you booked with us. You agree, without exception, that any losses or costs arising directly or indirectly from the form not being perfect cannot be claimed for against us.
